Construction Update in Pictures: Zyscovich Architects' designed Miami Palmetto High School in the Village of Pinecrest, Florida.

Excitement Builds As Palmetto Senior High School Begins To Take Shape.

Coming soon, in a series of construction phases, is a new classroom building that will anchor the new entrance to the school; a new administration and student services area; vocational labs for numerous instructional activities such as Web design, drafting and design, health science, and business technology education; a new arts wing to house 2-D and 3-D art and a photo studio lab; a new gymnastics space, dance room and a new vocal/music room; a new black box theater lab with outdoor stage performances, and a new cafeteria building and interior and exterior dining.
